

Hongling Liang

Born in Jilin, China, pianist Hongling Liang earned a bachelor's degree in piano performance studying with Hesong Wang at Jinan University in China. Then Hongling moved to Boston, where she earned a master's degree at the Longy School of Music of Bard College, in the studio of Rieko Aizawa.

Hongling also studied with renowned pianists Peter Serkin and Alexander Kobrin. She is currently an artist diploma student at the Schwob School of Music at Columbus State University, studying with Eric Zuber. She has performed as a soloist and as a chamber musician at Jordan Hall and Legacy Hall in Columbus and at Granoff Music Center and Pickman Hall in Boston; Westport Town Hall in Westport, Conn.; and at Jinan University and Southern Normal University in China.

Hongling has won a number of competitions, including Yangtze Piano Competition, the 16th Hong Kong International Piano Competition and the Macao International Piano Competition. She also has participated master classes with Ludmila Knezkova-Hussey, Xuwei, Matt Haimovitz and others.